The Weather in Various Parts of the Southern States.

Heavy Falls of Snow Reported from Almost Everywhere.

Good Prospects for a Flood in the Ohio Valley.

Two Feet of Snow at Nashville, Eighteen Inches at Memphis, from Six to Twelve Inches in Kentucky, Ten Inches in Mississippi and as Much as Twenty in Texas—Fruit and Crops Badly Damaged.

NASHVILLE, March 19.—Snow began falling here at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening and fell steadily for twenty-four hours. When it ceased it was two feet deep on the level. It is the heaviest snow in years. Street cars could not run. Trains were considerably delayed.

Storm Victims.
A telegram from the upper Cumberland brings news of the death of one Robertson, a raftman, who was frozen to death in the big snowstorm. His wife is also unconscious from the cold and not expected to recover.

Heaviest Ever Known at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, March 19.—Wednesday night's snow was the heaviest ever known in this part of the country. The snow, which began falling at 2 Wednesday afternoon, did not cease until daylight Thursday morning, when it lay eighteen inches on a level. Street car traffic, which ceased at 10 Wednesday night, was not resumed until noon Thursday, and then on but two of the lines.

All incoming trains were from one to two hours late. The storm is reported general, with the heaviest fall in this city.

KENTUCKY.

Eleven Inches at Lexington, with More in the Mountains.

LEXINGTON, March 19.—Thursday's snowstorm resulted in eleven inches of snow on the level. It drifted so badly in many places so as to make travel on the country roads almost impossible. The electric street cars were stopped.

A Foot at Cumberland Gap.

MIDDLESBORO, Ky., March 19.—The snowstorm Wednesday night resulted in six inches of snow in the valley and twice as much on the mountains. A heavy rain would result in a flood.

Twenty-Five Foot Drifts.

SOMERSET, Ky., March 19.—The snow is twenty-four inches deep, and more is coming. In some places the snow has drifted twenty-five feet deep.

TEXAS.

Rain, Sleet and Snow—Fruit and Crops Greatly Damaged.

DALLAS, March 19.—The hurricane of rain, sleet and snow began with fury all Wednesday night. No part of the whole state, from Red River to the Gulf, escaped its withering breath and icy embrace. At some points the snow reached the extraordinary depth of twenty inches.
At all points ice peeled from limbs and wires, and everything which could be blown by 18 to 20 degrees of cold went down. The fruit crop is totally swept away, but many think where the snow buried wheat and oats, these crops will be saved, and so will gardens, as follage was out.

Dispatches from a hundred points in the state report that it is a calamity worse than anything that has occurred in the past ten years.

The state commissioner of agriculture estimates the loss of the wheat and plum crop alone in the state at $1,750,000.

Sugar planters here fear their cane has been seriously injured.

All flowers are killed.

MISSISSIPPI.

The Coldest in Years—Big Snow at Holly Springs.

COLUMBUS, Miss., March 19.—Another cold wave struck this place Wednesday, and it has been growing colder ever since. Thursday morning it began sleet, and the snow fell for several hours. A strong north wind lowered the temperature to 20 degrees.

Ten Inches at Holly Springs.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., March 19.—A steady fall of sleet set in late Wednesday afternoon, which turned into a snowstorm during the night, covering the ground with ten inches of snow.
This is the severest weather this section has experienced in four years.

INDIANA.

Unless Further Injured the Wheat Crop Will Be Saved.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 19.—The state board of agriculture is in receipt of reports regarding the winter wheat from all sections of the state, indicating that the damage by recent frosts is not as great as the conditions which have prevailed for a month past would lead one to expect. The best posted farmers agree that the crop, unless further injured, will reach 80 per cent. of last year, which is the largest in the history of the state.

Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA, March 19.—The snowstorm of Thursday was the most severe ever experienced in this country. The land is frozen solid for a foot deep and is covered with eight inches of snow.
Many fatalities will occur among the boomers who are awaiting the session of the Indian lands. Hundreds of cattle have been frozen to death in the Osage Indian country, and numbers are supposed to have succumbed in other parts of the territory.

Illinois.

SPARTA, Ill., March 19.—The temperature here is several degrees below zero and great fears are entertained for the growing wheat. Much damage has already been done.

In the Upper Ohio Valley.

PITTSBURG, March 19.—Reports from eastern Kentucky and West Virginia indicating a heavy fall in that region. At Cattletown, Ky., seven inches; Charleston, W. Va., eight inches, and further into the mountains still heavier falls are reported; the snow is still falling.

Its sudden melting will cause high water.

IN THE EAST.

Eleven Inches of Snow in the Vicinity of New York City.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The snow which began falling in this city and vicinity about 10 o'clock Thursday night did not cease until about 10 o'clock Friday morning, and it now lies about eleven inches on a level. All incoming trains were late. The horse car and general traffic on the streets was much impeded, and nearly all cars and teams had to "double up." Pedestrianism was made most uncomfortable.

On the river and bay in the early morning navigation was fraught with considerable danger, owing to the thickness of the snowstorm.

Reports from the coast report the snowstorm as being very severe and the fall of snow the heaviest of the season.
The wind fortunately was moderate, which doubtless prevented many vessels from coming ashore.

At Newark, N. J.

NEWARK, March 19.—A storm began at 9 o'clock Thursday night, and Friday morning there was twelve inches of snow on the ground. Horse car traffic was seriously impeded.

HE LED A DOUBLE LIFE.

The End Comes in the Murder of His Wife, Then Suicide.

PITTSBURG, March 19.—Patrick Milley, a gatekeeper at Jones & Laughlin's iron works, living on Jones street, South Side, fatally shot his wife Friday morning and then killed himself. The cause of the double tragedy was the recent discovery by the wife that her husband was leading a double life. Milley had been married twice before, but both wives died. Four years ago he married for the third time. The couple lived happily together until a few months ago Mrs. Milley grew suspicious of her husband's frequent absences, and one day last week followed him to a house on Twenty-fourth street, where she found him in the company of another woman.

The wife bitterly upbraided her husband and accused him of infidelity, whereupon he assaulted and beat her quite severely. Since then he has been nervous, and Thursday engaged a substitute to work for him. Shortly after 9 o'clock Friday morning the neighbors heard Mrs. Milley scream, and then three shots were fired. Hurrying in to learn the cause, the police found the dead body of Mrs. Milley lying on the porch, with two bullet wounds in her back and the husband lying on the floor dead, with a revolver still clamped in his hand, and the blood streaming from a wound in his temple. The wife is still living, but can not recover. She was forty-two years of age, and Milley was six years her senior. The couple had had one child, but it died one month ago.

OVERPRODUCTION OF COTTON.

The Lesson to the South is One of Diversified Crops.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The March report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows that the production of cotton of the world exceeded the consumption more than 1,500,000 bales in 1890, and further greatly enlarges the excess of 1891, glutting the market, increasing visible stocks during the past year more than 1,100,000 bales, and reducing the Liverpool price of middling upland from 6 1/16 pence in January, 1890, to 4 1/8 pence in January, 1892. It states that in two years this country has produced an excess above normal requirements of more than 2,000,000 bales, and indicates a heavy reduction in breadth as the only possible remedy, otherwise the agriculture of the south will suffer worse than the rest of the country ever has. It declares that the cotton states must be agriculturally self-sustaining; that new crops must be introduced, as the agricultural population has outgrown the capacity of cotton to support it.

Another Case of Abnormal Love.

MEMPHIS, March 19.—A case similar to the infatuation of Alice Mitchell for Freda Ward is that of Addie Phillips and Minnie Hubbard, each seventeen years old. On Sunday the two girls disappeared, and were not found until Thursday. Miss Phillips, on her return, said that she and Minnie had been together.

She told her mother that she loved Minnie, and would rather be dead than separated from her. She said that Minnie was the only person that she could marry, and this she intended to do. Miss Phillips is a fine looking girl and has been carefully educated. It was agreed between the parents of the two girls to separate them, and when Miss Phillips heard of this she was overcome with grief.

Tennessee White Caps.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., March 19.— News of continued work of White Caps reached here Friday. People of District No. 19, of Montgomery county, are in a high state of excitement on account of a band of these self-constituted regulators going over the district administering floggings to all men they think need punishment. So far John Powers, Israel Robinson and Burton Dorch have been injured. At Marion station, on the Clarksville Mineral railroad, another White Cap band has collected.

A Bachelor Suicide.

MONROE, La., March 19.—George Kipple, a bachelor, of Pijers, living alone, committed suicide Thursday evening by hanging himself to a doorknob with a rope. The rope was looped around his neck, passed around his leg, looped over his foot and fastened to the doorknob.
No cause is known for the deed.

First for Twenty-Four Years.

BUENE, March 19.—The first execution that has occurred in Switzerland since 1868 took place Friday at Lucerne. The culprit was an Italian named Gatti, who after outraging Mile. Degen, a teacher, murdered her. He was executed by the guillotine.

Disgusted With Mike.

DETROIT, March 19.—A large number of the followers of Prince Michael are becoming disgusted with the prince and are deserting him to return to their former homes.

VON CAPRIVI

Tenders His Resignation as German Chancellor.

He Tires of the Position After About Two Years' Service.

Not Known Whether It Will Be Accepted or Not.

Caused by a Squabble About the Educational Bill—Riotous Demonstrations in the German Capital on the Anniversary of the Revolution of 1848—Whether is Emperor William Leading His People and Germany?

BERLIN, March 19.—Chancellor Von Caprivi has resigned. He was appointed chancellor to succeed Bismarck about two years ago. His career up to that time had wholly been that of a military man, save for a brief period when he had been at the head of naval affairs.
He is now in his sixty-third year.

May Refuse to Accept.

It is thought that the Kaiser will refuse to accept Caprivi's resignation.
There are rumors, however, of a doubtful nature that Herr Bennigsen or General Lettewitz will be offered the chancellorship.

The resignation of Caprivi was preceded by that of Count Zentgraf, minister of public instruction. The crisis resulted from the abandonment by the government of the educational bill.

The rupture took place at Thursday's cabinet council. The emperor spoke of the school bill as though it was not a government measure. He was reminded that the bill was first on the order book, to which he replied that it was desirable to postpone it. Seidlitz and Caprivi urged him to wait till the landtag committee had reported the bill or it had been read the first time. The emperor emphatically and curtly refused. Thereupon Caprivi and Seidlitz resigned.

MORE RIOTING IN BERLIN.

On the Anniversary of the Republican Revolution of 1848.

BERLIN, March 19.—Friday was the anniversary of the revolution of 1848, and in view of the recent disturbances, the unusual precautions against disorder.
The police were directed to keep a vigilant lookout, for gatherings of the socialists in honor of the event, which Kaiser William himself is said to have pronounced the most humiliating episode in the history of his house.

The socialists gathered in thousands, and went in procession to Friedrichsshain to decorate the burial places of the victims who were shot down by the military on the memorable day in 1848 when the king and queen of Prussia stood, with uncovered heads, before the dead. The graves were quietly decorated. On the way back from Friedrichsshain the crowd shouted: "Long live anarchy!" "Down with the government!"

The police, who were watching the procession in considerable force, at once made a rush for the shouters, who were mostly young men. The police seized as many as they could lay hands on and proceeded to drag them away.
The crowd became indignant, and some of the young men appealed to their friends to rescue them. The police hustled the crowd, and the police seized the military on the memorable day in 1848
when the king and queen of Prussia
stood, with uncovered heads, before the
dead. The graves were quietly decora-
ted. On the way back from Friedrichs-
ment!"

Drawing their swords, the police made a charge upon the crowd, which fought and left, but not striking to kill.
The populace were obstinate, but did not use weapons in resistance. The blows from the police soon scattered the mob, a number of whom were severely injured. The police took twelve prisoners, who were lodged in the cells for trial on a charge of rioting and sedition.

A Family Poisoned.

NASHVILLE, March 19.—There was a mysterious poisoning case Thursday night, which may result fatally to several people. The victims were Mrs. R.
Melrose, her son, David Melrose, and two daughters, Katie and Mattie Melrose. Two other members of the family were affected, but not very seriously.
The poison was contained in the food at the dining room table. The police were called to the scene, and the family was taken to the hospital. All that is certain is that soon after the meal the whole family were taken with severe pains.

A Deliberate Murder.

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ky., March 19.—T.
J. Hawkins shot and instantly killed John A. Nurnberger at the cooper shops of John E. Gowdy, in this city, Friday morning. From present indications it seems to be a deliberate murder. Nurn-berger was at work and did not know Hawkins was present until the fatal shot was fired. Hawkins' family lives at Jeffersonville, Ind. The family of the deceased lives at Calhoun, Ky. Hawkins was arrested.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—On account of personal journalism between William and Patrick J. Elliott and A. C.
Osborn, Patrick J. killed the latter Feb. 23, 1891. W. J. Elliott was soon after sentenced to life. Friday P. J.
Elliott was convicted of manslaughter.

Malinda a Murderess.

GREENUP, Ky., March 19.—Malinda Crump, who shot and killed her husband, said she did the deed was executed in self-defense. Her young son tells the same story in his mother's words, showing that he had been told what to say. The murder was undoubtedly premeditated.

Miners Strike.

PINEVILLE, Ky., March 19.—One hundred miners are out here on a strike on account of a cut made in the wages by the coal mine owners. Everything is quiet so far, but trouble is expected if any new men are brought in to fill the places.

Calhoun Withdraws.

AUSTIN, March 19.—Hon. David Calhoun has withdrawn from the race for United States senator. This will probably elect Mills overwhelmingly, and the chances are that Chilton will pull down his colors before Saturday night.

FORTY LIVES SAVED

From a Stranded Vessel by Life Savers at Asbury Park, N. J.

ASBURY PARK, March 19.—The new steel clipper-rigged English vessel Windward came ashore at 8 o'clock Friday morning at the foot of Deal Lake, North Asbury Park. The sea was running very high when the life-saving corps reached the shore opposite the stranded clipper, and at first the rescue of souls from the sea-washed vessel with boats appeared to be impracticable.

The breeches buoy was accordingly put into use. A line was shot across the deck of the ship, but those on board of her were either panic-stricken or too ignorant of its use to attempt self-assistance in getting ashore. Instructions from the shore were shouted out to the men on the ship, but were for a long time unheeded.

Finally the line was made fast, high upon the main mast, and after further considerable delay one of the sailors adjusted himself securely in the buoy and slid along the line away from the vessel.
The line slackened somewhat as he nearly the beach, letting him under the water, in which position he was dragged to the shore safe but exhausted. He was removed to the station, and the rescue of the second was begun in the same manner and was attended with the same difficulty.

The experience of the first two landed was of no value to those remaining, as not one of them knew how to use the breeches buoy.

Directions were painted on a small blackboard, which was run out to the vessel on a second line that followed the buoy line. These instructions were promptly followed, and finally all the crew of forty were safely landed.
